

Sediment Filters

Sediment filters are used to stop heavy sediment, dirt, and particulates from entering your home, and improve overall performance of your treatment systems. It can be installed as a stand-alone filter if your water concern is sediment, or installed with a whole home filter system to protect your existing treatment systems, and for better, more refreshing water and longer-lasting, more reliable system performance.

4" x 20"

2" x 10" 4" x 10"